

The learning pathway

Health education and NCEA

All students participate in health education learning across years 1-10. Health education topics may be taught in a dedicated and timetabled health education class, in combination with PE, or as part of a themed unit involving other subject areas.

Students in years 11-13 can choose to take health education courses offered by the school. Assessment in these courses contributes to students' NCEA qualifications. The range of Achievement Standards at each level is listed below.
